Says Youths Just Reaching 21 Years Should Be Distributed Among Those Listed.

(Associated Press.) Washington, April 30.-Provost Mar shal-General Crowder today requested the chairman of the senate and house military committees to eliminate from the bill extending the selective draft law to youths reaching 21 years of age since June 5, 1917, the amendment of Representative Hull, of Iowa, which would place such men at the bottom of the eligible lists. He also requested that the second bill amending the draft act, basing quotas on the number of men in class I instead of on state populations, be amended to make its pro visions retroactive, applying to men summoned under the recent second call previous to the bill's enactment.

Regarding the Hull amendment, hich is now in conference, Gen. Crowder wrote the chairmen that more fair manner to register youths attaining their majority would be the provost marshal's plan to distribute more fair manner to register them among men already registered.

COLD WEATHER CAUSES BIG BULGE IN COTTON

In a Few Minutes of Trading There Was a Fall of ,86 to 105 Points.

New Orleans, April 30,-Cold and wet weather in the belt caused a bulge of 106 to 118 points in the price of cotton in the early session here, but the improvement was met by a burst of selling nspired by rumors that adverse market legislation had made its appearance in Washington. In a few minutes of trading there was a fall of 86 to 105 points rading months being depressed until they were only 1 to 32 points above the level of yesterday's close. Denials from Washington of the bearish rumors gave the market a steady tone again, and late in the day it stood 75 points up net,

TWENTY-FIVE GALLONS OF LIQUOR FOUND

J. A. Patterson's Place Raided Monday Night With Good Results.

Following a raid of Will Light and Ed Tate, plainclothes officers of the local police department, and Capt. Kenneth Kern, chief of the provost guard, on the place of J. A. Patterson Monday night, Patterson was registered at police headquarters, charged with selling and storing liquor. About twenty-five gallons of the intoxicant were found, one key containing several gallons.

The liquor was taken in charge by the officers and some of the bottles used, as evidence against the accused man when he faced Judge Martin Fleming in police court Tuesday morning. The judge held Patterson to the grand jury under total bonds of $6,000.

According to the testimony, a soldier bought a bottle of liquor for $8. The bottle held a quart of the "wet goods." The raid followed the making of the purchase. Patterson denied seeing the soldier. Patterson was registered on the police blotter at 11:58 o'clock Mon-

COTTON MARKET CPENED

New York, April 30 .- The cotton market was extremely nervous and unsettled early today. The opening was strong at an advance of 30 to 85 points, with July selling at 25.70c and October at 25c on the call as a result of active covering and fresh buying inspired by relatively firm cables, renewed complaints of wet and cool weather and a more optimistic view of the war news. This buige met liquidation by people who had carried their cotton over the break of late yesterday, and there were quick reactions of 30 or 40 points after the call, accompanied by renewed talk of increased spot prices.

Reports that congressmen were being petitioned to close the cotton exchange for the duration of the war revived the fear of government regulation or price-fixing during the middle of the morning. There was a renewal of heavy general selling as a consequence, and for a time the market was very weak and excited, with July selling off to 24.80c and October to 24.15c, or 90 to 35 points below the early high level and 3 to 5 points net lower. Later Washington advices were reassuring, however, and the market steadled up during the middle of the day on the unfavorable view of new-crop progress, with prices showing rallies of 70 or 75 points from the lowest.

Trading was comparatively quiet during the early afternoon and the market ruled steady around 25.50c for July and 24.80c for October, or about 60 to 70 points net higher. Southern spot markets officially reported early were nominally unchanged.

The advance continued until it amounted to 106 to 118 points. Here extremely heavy selling based on unfounded rumors of unfavorable legislation caused a violent break which put the active months 86 to 105 points down from the top, where they stood 1 to 32 points above yeaterday's final prices.

In the afternoon the tone was steadier on the denial in telegrams from Washington of the appearance of bills adverse to the market. At 1 o'clock prices were at a net advance of 72 to 73 points.

GREENWOOD CEMETERY CITY'S MILK SUPPLY NOT SANITARY

Few Dairies Said to Be Complying With Regulations. May Be Barred.

One-half of the dairies now furnishing a milk supply to Chattanooga are not complying with the minimum nilk regulations passed by the health department, according to a report re-ceived by Dr. C. P. Knight, of the United States health department. The most important of these regu-lations that are not being observed is that of the sterilization of bottles and utensils. This is especially necessary in this community, account the Knight, because approximately twothis community, according to Dr thirds of the farms are not supplied with city water, and the water that is used by them from springs and wells is contaminated. important feature that is brought out in the report furnished by the government inspector, is that out of the eighteen dairies now listed about one-third of these are not equipped with milkhouses. This is eriously jeopardizing the milk supply, says Dr. Knight, as the product is thereby open to flies and taminations.

Those dairymen

taminations. Those dairymen who have no milkhouses are using the back porches to take the place of a house. Out of this number only one house. Out of this In addition to the insanitary ster-ilization of bottles and utensils, the absence of milkhouses and the fact that two dairymen haven't complied with the regulation re-garding the use of the small top pails, the dairymen are also charged with laxity in complying with the regulations concerning the weekly reports, Commissioner H. D. Huffaker made a strong talk at the meeting of the dairy association in which he told the dairymen the importance of these weekly reports and explained what it would mean if they are not made. It has been estimated that, out of the eighteen dairies, about six are turning in the weekly reports regularly, and twelve irregularly. At the same meeting of the dairy associatica, which Commissioner Huffaker attended, the dairymen not only promised the commissioner to send in these reports, but promised full support and co-operation in enforcing the milk regula-tions. This meeting was held at the time the commissioner was consider-ing putting into effect a strict pasteurization plan. The commissioner has not only reuested the dairymen to send in week-y reports, but he has mailed to each eards to be filled out, and enclosed return postage for their reports. With all of these requirements that are not being observed by all of the dairymen, Dr. Knight points out that it is impossible for the city of Chattanooga to have a milk supply on the market that will be satisfactory to the government. He brought out that even though at present the bacteria counts are running lower that with the summer months coming on, and the dairies in the present conditions, will be dangerous. Considering the milk situation as it Dr. Knight says that he is strongly in favor of giving these people who have not come up to the requirements a certain time to comply with the regulations, and if they don't the city department of health should bar milk supply from these dairies
